UFSC: A UNIVERSITY FOR ALL

The Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina (UFSC) has its main campus located in Florianópolis, capital of the state of Santa Catarina, Brazil. Founded on 18 December 1960 with the goal of promoting teaching, research and outreach, UFSC delivers free and public education and is placed among the best universities in Brazil and in Latin America.

UFSC's mission is to produce, systematize, and socialize philosophical, scientific, artistic, and technological knowledge, broadening and deepening students' education for the professional practice, critical thinking, and national and international solidarity with a view to building a just and democratic society and also guaranteeing quality of life.

With four other campuses distributed in the cities of Araranguá, Blumenau, Curitiba and Joinville, UFSC community consists of around 50,000 people, including about 6,000 faculty and staff members. The university has nearly 30,000 undergraduate students enrolled in more than 100 on-campus programs and 10 distance learning programs. At the graduate level, UFSC offers around 7,500 places in more than 60 academic master's programs, 15 professional master's programs and 50 doctoral programs, in addition to a number of specialization programs offered on campus or via distance learning.

UFSC's achievements are seen as reference in Brazil and abroad and its internationalization process includes cooperation agreements with educational institutions all over the world. Currently, there are more than 300 partnerships with countries in all parts of the globe.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

- UFSC has more than 300 active cooperation agreements with several countries and over 100 agreements under negotiation;
- Around 600 exchange students, faculty and staff come to UFSC each year;
- More than 200 UFSC students, faculty and staff go on exchange in foreign institutions each year.

FLORIANÓPOLIS CAMPUS (REITOR JOÃO DAVID FERREIRA LIMA)

UFSC main campus is located in Trindade, Florianópolis Island, and occupies an area of more than 1,140,000 m². The administrative bodies and eleven academic schools are located on this campus, as well as the University Central Library, the University Restaurant, several research laboratories, the Colégio de Aplicação [laboratory school] and the Child Development Center.

The activities of the School of Agricultural Sciences are developed in Itacorubi, a neighborhood located 3.6 km far from the main campus.

ARARANGUÁ CAMPUS

The Araranguá Campus is located 214 km south of Florianópolis. It was the first campus to be established outside of Florianópolis, with the aim of contributing to the sustainable development of the region.

Currently, this campus offers five undergraduate degree programs in Information and Communication Technology, Energy Engineering, Computer Engineering, Physical Therapy and Medicine. It also offers four master's degree programs in Information and Communication Technology, Energy and Sustainability, Rehabilitation Sciences and Physics Education.

BLUMENAU CAMPUS

The Blumenau Campus is located 92 km north of Florianópolis and aims to prepare professionals to meet the socio-technical needs of the Vale do Itajaí region.

Based on the interconnection among science, education and technology, the campus offers undergraduate programs in Textile Engineering, Automation and Control Engineering, Materials Engineering, Mathematics and Chemistry, in addition to a professional master's degree in Physics Education.

CURITIBANOS CAMPUS

The Curitiba Campus is located 302 km west of Florianópolis and offers degree programs in the field of agricultural sciences. To strengthen its teaching, research and outreach activities, the campus includes two experimental farms, one for agriculture and livestock (with 24 ha) and the other for forest farming (with 31 ha).

Currently, the campus offers four undergraduate degree programs in Agriculture, Forest Engineering, Veterinary Medicine and Rural Sciences, and a master's degree program in Agricultural and Natural Ecosystems.

JOINVILLE CAMPUS

The Joinville Campus is located 177 km north of Florianópolis. This campus offers engineering degree programs with focus on the development of automotive, subway, railway, maritime, fluvial, air and space transportation systems.

Currently, it offers undergraduate degrees in: Aerospace Engineering, Naval Engineering, Transportation and Logistics Engineering, Railway and Subway Engineering, Mechatronics Engineering, Infrastructure Engineering, Automotive Engineering and Interdisciplinary Program in Mobility. The campus also runs two master's degree programs in Mechanical Engineering and Sciences and Electronic Systems Engineering.

FLORIANÓPOLIS, SANTA CATARINA

Florianópolis is the capital and second largest city in Santa Catarina state. It is also known by its nickname “Floripa”. This magic city has the third highest Human Development Index score in Brazil. It offers the comfort of a developed urban center while maintaining its intimate contact with nature. Sea, hillsides and more than 40 beaches all nestled in a breathtaking landscape.

Most of the city lies on the long, slender Santa Catarina Island, which is 54 km long and 18 km wide. The city’s population, according to the 2017 IBGE population estimate, is 485.838. Tourism forms the basis of the local economy, causing the population to triple during summer months. The city’s economy is also heavily based on technology and services.

LIVING IN SANTA CATARINA

The Office of International Relations (SINTER) provides information for international students, such as housing options, map of Florianópolis, and Portuguese learning opportunities. Go to SINTER website (<http://sinter.ufsc.br>) and check the “International Students” menu on the left.

ADMISSION AT UFSC

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

Types of admission for degree-seeking applicants

There are several ways to apply to UFSC's undergraduate programs:

Vestibular

The Vestibular is the university entrance examination. It ranks applicants according to their performance and qualifies them for admission in the undergraduate programs. For further information, access COPERVE/UFSC website: <http://coperve.ufsc.br/>

Unified Selection System (Sisu/MEC)

The Unified Selection System (Sisu) is a computerized system established by the Ministry of Education (MEC) through which Brazilian public higher education institutions offer seats to applicants according to their performance in the National Secondary School Examination (Enem). For further information, access Sisu/MEC website: <http://sisu.mec.gov.br/inicial>

Transfer and Returning

Every semester, according to the academic calendar, the Student Administration Department (DAE) publishes a call for applications informing the seats available in each undergraduate program for transfer (to students coming from other higher education institutions), returning (to students who already graduated from UFSC or other institution) and changing degree program (to current students at UFSC). For further information, access DAE website: <http://dae.ufsc.br/transferencias-e-retornos/>

Exchange Program for Undergraduate Students (PEC-G)

The PEC-G is a cooperation program between the Brazilian government and other developing countries (from Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean) with which Brazil maintains educational and cultural agreements. Governed by the Ministry of External Relations (MRE) and the Ministry of Education (MEC), it provides students from these countries the opportunity to pursue their undergraduate studies in Brazil and apply the acquired knowledge in their home countries. For further information, access MRE website: <http://www.dce.mre.gov.br/PEC/PECG.php>

Types of admission for international exchange students

International undergraduate students from universities that have cooperation agreements with UFSC can do an exchange at UFSC for one or two semesters. For further information and procedures, access SINTER website: <http://sinter.ufsc.br/incoming/>

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Types of admission for degree-seeking students and exchange students

Graduate Programs at UFSC set their own admission procedures for international students who wish to pursue their master's or doctoral degrees or to do an exchange. Therefore, you should contact the Program of your interest to check its specific application requirements. At this link you will find the list of all graduate programs offered at UFSC and their respective websites: <http://structure.ufsc.br/graduate-programs/>

VISA AND REGISTRATION

International students are responsible for providing the appropriate visa before coming to Brazil. In case of doubts, please consult the Brazilian Consulate in your home country. Upon arrival, it is necessary to go to the Federal Police Office to regularize your immigration status.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO WELCOMING YOU AT UFSC!
