I hereby give my consent to send this form to appropriate departments for finding a teaching tandem at TU Dresden.

Data Protection Declaration for: TSP – Teaching Synergies Program

For what purpose will personal data be processed?

As part of the Excellence Strategy of TU Dresden, the Teaching Synergies Program (TSP) is aimed at researchers of Dresden Concept Institutions who are interested in teaching cooperations with lecturers from TU Dresden in the context of joint teaching activities. The data will be collected in order to find and form teaching tandems for research oriented courses at TU Dresden. Collecting specified personal data via a questionnaire is important for the matching process in order to find suiting teaching tandems.

Who is responsible for data processing and to whom can data subjects turn?

Technische Universität Dresden

What is the legal basis for the processing of personal data?

The legal basis for the processing of data for the aforementioned purposes is Art. 6 para. 1 and subpara. 1 lit. a GDPR (Consent).

What personal data will be processed?

The personal data specified in the respective profile or communicated in other ways (mail correspondence, etc.) are processed. This includes, in particular, the name, academic title, degree program and semester, contact details (email) as well as the research institution, department, fields of interest and other content regarding questions of teaching. In order to find a suiting teaching tandem the information about a possible course at TU Dresden will be processed.

For how long is personal data stored/processed?

For the internal evaluation of the TSP project as part of the Excellence Strategy, the name, title and research institution will be stored until December 31, 2026.

Will personal data be transferred to third parties?

This profile sheet may be transferred within TU Dresden in order to find a suiting teaching tandem partner. The transferred data is limited to the first side of this document (details and information about the possible course).

Unless stipulated otherwise by law or unless you have given your express consent, no personal data will be transferred to third parties.

Is person-related data published?

No.

Which are the general rights of data subjects?

Voluntariness and Revocation (Art. 7 para. 3 GDPR)

The submission of personal data is voluntary. Consent may be refused or revoked at any time without giving reasons by writing to the person responsible.

Right of access to personal data (Art. 15 GDPR)

You have the right to obtain information on the data processed concerning your person, as well as the possible recipients of this data, at any time. You are entitled to a reply within one month of the responsible party for the data processing receiving your request for information.

Right to correction, deletion and limitation (Art. 16- 18 GDPR)

Data subjects can contact TU Dresden at any time to demand the correction, deletion or the limitation of processing of their personal data.

Right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR)

Data subjects may request that the responsible party send them their personal data in a machine-readable format. Alternatively, you can request the direct transfer of your personal data to a different responsible party, insofar as this is possible.

Right of appeal (Art. 77 GDPR)

Data subjects can at any time contact TU Dresden's Data Protection Officer and, in the case of a complaint pursuant to Art. 77 GDPR, the responsible supervisory authority for data protection.
